

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the difference between Hand-Tied and Beaded Wefts?

There is no difference! Sometimes these terms are used interchangeably but the term "Hand -Tied" actually refers to the type of extension hair being installed.

"Beaded-Wefts" is actually a row of beads placed around your head to create a "track." The wefts are then sewn to the track of beads creating a natural, seamless blend.

How long does the hair last?

The hair itself can last about 9-12 months with proper care.

Move up or tightening appointments are needed every 6-8 weeks.

What brand of hair do you use?

We source our hair from a number of professional brands and suppliers in order to best meet the needs of our guests and to offer a variety of color options. All of the hair we procure is the highest quality 100% human remy hair, which means the cuticle is intact and the hair strands are completely aligned in the natural direction they would grow from a head.

Will they damage my natural hair?

With proper at-home care, beaded wefts are not damaging. At your initial install appointment we will show you how to properly care for your extensions and send you home with a hair care kit and instructions so you will have everything you need for them.

How long does my hair need to be to qualify for Hand-Tied Extensions?

We require at least shoulder-length hair for Hand-Tied extensions. This ensures the most natural looking seamless blend for undetectable extensions

Is there a lot of maintenance involved?

Amazingly enough, no! Most of our extension guests feel it's quite the opposite! The extension hair holds a style and curl much longer than our natural hair which allows you to go longer in between shampoos with minimal upkeep in the meantime!

Daily brushing and oiling is required but other than that, it's mostly being aware of some do's and don'ts. Don't worry we will go over all of it with you at your installation and send you home with an after care sheet to refer back to!

Can I wear my hair up?

Yes! These luxury extensions look and feel the most natural in the hair than any other extension method.

They are easy to wear up even in the highest of pony's. We do ask you wait a week after your installation to avoid any pulling at newly placed beads and allow them to naturally loosen. This will ensure a 6-8 week maintenance plan.

How long does an installation take?

Initial installation appointments vary on the number of rows and wefts we need to put in to achieve your goals. Appointments can range from 2-4 hours depending on the package selected. We know that's a longer appointment than what you may be used to, we do offer complimentary snacks and refreshments along with other amenities (phone chargers + magazines) to keep you comfortable while you hang out with us!
